Property Description

In the beautiful town of Plantanillo up in the hills just 20 minutes from the Dominical beach and only 20 minutes from the 2nd largest city in Costa Rica, is an amazing view home in a very picturesque mountain setting. With quaint shops of the small village just a short walk down a very private road, you find yourself in a place that is very easy to call home. Mountain and valley views that stretch for miles. At about 1,500 feet elevation the temperature stays between 70 – 80 degrees year round. The ground here is very good for growing and this property has excellent space for a garden. Totally private and very well constructed this home is only 100 meters off the main road and is completely fenced in. Covered parking and a garage with secured storage means you have plenty of room for a work shop or a place to put your things. As a practical investment this is a very good option for someone wanting to not only have a wonderful home to live, but one that will also produce income as a side-by-side duplex.
