Property Description

This large ,56+/- hct finca, sits amongst the elevated, rolling hills of the San Juan mountains. The sweeping and dramatic ocean views are immediately apparent and the obvious draw of such a pristine property. In addition the property is home to two waterfalls with swimming holes, mature jungle, miles of hiking/ equestrian trails and multiple potential development sites, providing added value to any owner wanting space to spread out. Whether you're thinking of an off grid or low grid homestead, private estate setting, hobby farm or a wonderful location for a retreat center, this finca offers so many possibilities. A bonus second public road along the north east side of the property (to be verified via survey by buyer) really opens up the development possibilities for this land.
