Property Description

This finca is an absolute gem. Located just miles from Marbella beach in Guanacaste, this lovely finca is poised to be the perfect respite for a family estate farm, wellness center, yoga retreat, or just simply, a place to get away from it all. There are over two hundred acres here. I am a nature nut and when I went to see this beautiful mountain property I was astounded by all the wildlife I saw just in an hour or so. There were helicopter damselflies, howler monkeys, purple trumpet trees, yellow flowered trees that serve as the sole nesting trees for yellow-naped parrots, and large freshwater shrimp in the river that meanders along the border of the finca. There is a natural ravine that produces a waterfall during the rainy season. There is also a natural spring of water on the property that produces a full creek. There is no shortage of water here for any type of development. The ocean views here are nothing short of spectacular.
